Itinerary

The team will be Boarding the Haridwar Spl train from Bandra terminus (train number) 09019 at 00:05 hrs, this train will reach Haridwar next day morning 8.30am. You can plan to travel with our crew in this train OR directly meet us at the meeting point i.e. Dehradun Railway Stn at 9.00 am.

Day 1: Rishikesh/ Haridwar/ Dehradun to Sankri Village

- The trek starts from Sankri village which is a 6-8 hours drive from Dehradun Station.
- Altitude: 6,400 feet. 220 km drive - approx 8hours.

Stay over in Sankri GuestHouse

Sankri is a stunning little village with Swargarohini serving as its backdrop. From Sankri the track is all around stamped and goes through thick woods with amazing perspectives of the valley sprawled beneath and the spouting stream Rupin streaming in all its strength. Taluka, a little village lays on the banks of the stream Supin, and is known for its lovely "Pahari cabins" made out of a complex wood, stone and mud group – an absolute necessity see,

Day 2: Sankri Village - Juda ka talab

- Altitude: 6,400 feet to 9,100 feet. 4 kms trek, approx 5 hours.
- The trail passes through dense pine forests, maple trees, a few streams and finally opens out to beautiful meadows.

Stay in tents.

Somebody wise once said," Whenever you doubt the presence of god, take a trip to the Himalayas!" Juda ka talab is one such site in the Himalayas which will surely make you believe in the magic that only god can do. It is a picturesque lake in the Supin range of the Himalayas in Uttarakhand. It is elevated at a height of 9100 feet above the sea level. Juda ka talab is a large clearing adjacent to a dense pine and oak forest. The legend has it that Lord Shiva opened a little of his hair and water flowed out to form this small pond. Several trekkers use this spot as a campsite, spending the night here having fun near bonfires and sleeping under a blanket of twinkling stars. The lake looks absolutely divine during winters.

Day 3: Juda-ka-Talab to Kedarkantha Base

- Altitude: 9,100 feet to 11,250 feet. 4 kms trek, approx 2.5 hours.
- Most of today's trail is on a ridge, under oak trees.
- You will also pass through some meadows where you can spot shepherd log huts.
- Peaks :- Bandarpoonch, Swargarohini, Kala Nag and Ranglana stand among the others.

Stay in tents

The Sankri village is a small village located at a distance of 4kms below the Juda ka Talab. Several sheep or cattle herders from the village can be spotted here. While trekking from the village to the lake, through a trail from the dense forest of pine and maple trees and a few streams, look out for Langurs, wild boars and hares on your way up!

Day 4: Kedarkantha base to Kedarkantha peak; descend to Hargaon camp

- Altitude: 11,250 feet to 12,500 feet to 8,900 feet.
- 6 kms trek, approx 7 hours.
- Spend some time at the summit and descend back to the base camp by noon for lunch..
- Post lunch, descend down to Hargaon.
- Reach Hargaon by evening.

Stay in tents.

If you trek higher, you will reach the Kedarkantha peak which offers a panoramic view of the glistening snow covered peaks including the Bandarpunch peak, the Swargarohini, Kala nag, Ranglana to name a few. The snow peaks form a wide arc from left to right and create a perfect setting for some fantastic photographs!

Day 5: Hargaon camp to Sankri & Sankri to Dehradun

- Altitude: 8,900 feet to 6,400 feet.
- 6 kms trek, approx 4 hours.
- Descend 2500 feet through dense pine forests.

Hargaon is a quaint little village in Uttarakhand. It is known for its picturesque view of the Har-ki-dun valley and other peaks around. It is surrounded by a dense Pine and maple tree forest. It is located 2500 feet above the Sankri village.

(Sankri to Rishikesh)

Distance: 220 km drive, approx 10 hours.

You will be dropped at Dehradun station in a Tata Sumo or a similar vehicle. It's an open plan from here on. People can opt to stay with our plan or plan their journey.
